Macbeth	QL	CL
Fair is foul, and foul is fair;/Hover through the fog and filthy air.
For brave Macbeth--well he deserves that name--
O valiant cousin! worthy gentleman!
So foul and fair a day I have not seen.
If you can look into the seeds of time,/And say which grain will grow and which will not,/Speak then to me
Stay, you imperfect speakers, tell me more
If chance will have me king, why, chance may crown me,/Without my stir.
There's no art/To find the mind's construction in the face
Stars, hide your fires;/Let not light see my black and deep desires
Yet do I fear thy nature, It is too full o' th' milk of human kindness to catch the nearest way.
Come, you spirits/That tend on mortal thoughts, unsex me here/And fill me from the crown to the toe top-full/O...
look like the innocent flower,/But be the serpent under't.
We will proceed no further in this business:/He hath honour'd me of late
I dare do all that may become a man/Who dares do more is none.
I would, while it was smiling in my face,/Have pluck'd my nipple from his boneless gums,/And dash'd the brains...
But screw your courage to the sticking-place,/And we'll not fail.
False face must hide what the false heart doth know.
Is this a dagger which I see before me,/The handle toward my hand?
I had most need of blessing, and 'Amen'/Stuck in my throat.
Glamis hath murder'd sleep, and therefore Cawdor/Shall sleep no more; Macbeth shall sleep no more.
I am afraid to think what I have done
